

MEET THE TEACHER!

Mrs. Shalia Young

THE BASICS!

Hello! I'm Shalia Young, and this is my twenty-seventh year of teaching. I'm married and have three children. My oldest is a senior, my middle daughter is a freshman, and my youngest will be in fifth grade. We have a crazy standard poodle named Max and are on the look out for a cat to add to the mix. Weekends are crazy between baseball, wrestling, and dance! I can't wait to add school back into the mix...

MY CHILDHOOD!

Born in New Orleans, my parents moved back to Shreveport where I grew up. I went to five elementary schools before we settled down. I have two sisters, a brother, as well as a step-sister, and a step-brother. Our blended family works, but it's a little crazy.

You can also write a note in your child's planner!

Welcome to fifth grade; it's what I consider the most exciting year at BRCVPA! We will read novels, work on class projects, develop your writing skills, meet little buddies, carve pumpkins, take field trips, work on a Broadway production, and culminate in a memorable recognition of all your accomplishments in elementary school. Stick with me and let's make fifth grade one for the records!
